

302 BC

India (Chronology)

Greek historian MEGASTHENES (in 302 BC) was ambassador of Seleucus I Nicator, founder of Seleucid Empire, to the Court of Chandragupta Maurya, Ashoka's grandfather. According to Megasthenes, the people of the Magadha kingdom, with its Capital Pataliputra (Patna), kept very long dynastic lists preserved in the later part Sanskrit

Perseus (legend of gods & hero) and Lata Buddha and Jain Christs. They generally indicate in years in past of years, the duration of each reign Unfortunately it is not always possible to connect them with any absolute chronology.

302 BC

CAIUS FABIVS PICTOR

Painted the temple of Salus at Rome,
the first recorded Roman painting.